

MISS GISH AND THE SENTIMENTAL SCENTRY.

200,000 IRISH VOLUNTEERS

Ready to Take Field Against England, Says Col. Wallace.

New York, April 29—An investigation was begun yesterday at the office of the United States district attorney to determine whether a crime had been committed by persons responsible for the attacks on President Wilson and the national administration that have appeared in Irish-American papers published here since the outbreak of the revolution in Dublin. Copies of these editorials will be examined, it was said by one of the assistant district attorneys who has been prominent in the investigation of alien conspiracies.

The attention of the federal authorities was first aroused by an editorial statement that information which led to the sinking of the German ship which attempted to land arms and ammunition on Irish soil came from a member of the Washington administration, "on the orders of President Wilson." This declaration has been authoritatively denied in Washington.

Col. Patrick J. Wallace, commander of a Connemara brigade of the Irish Volunteers, who is now in New York, is authority for the statement that the present situation in Ireland was not fostered in Germany nor in America.

"The plans of the Irish Volunteers" he said, "have been ready ever since the first talk of conscription was heard in Ireland. At the time of the revolt there were 3,000 fully armed and fully trained volunteers in Dublin. Out through the country there were 60,000. With the neutral bodies, there are today 200,000 Irish Volunteers who, when the real test comes, will take the field against the English."

An opposite view is expressed by the Marquis of Aberdeen, for nine years viceroy of Ireland. Lord Aberdeen, who is now in New York, said that, while he did not underestimate the seriousness of the situation, he was, nevertheless, convinced that the outbreak would be of short duration. In discussing dispatches regarding

At a Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, continued and held at the Courthouse of said City on Thursday April 27th, 1916.

Present, Hon. Louis C. Barley, Judge.

Isabelle R. Carl, Complainant, vs. Walter G. Carl, Defendant.

Upon the application of the Complainant, stating specifically the last known place of abode and residence of the defendant, the Court on this 27th day of March 1916, doth grant the following order of publication:

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii with the defendant, on the grounds of desertion and for general relief.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the defendant Walter G. Carl is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that he do appear within fifteen days after the due publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect his interest therein. And it is further ordered that a copy of this order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in Alexandria Gazette a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria and that a copy be posted at the front door of the court House of said City on or before the next succeeding rule day after this order is entered, and that a copy of said order of publication shall be sent by mail, by the Clerk of the Court addressed to the defendant to his last known address and abode which was 513 16th Street Southeast, Washington, D. signs of unrest in parts of Ireland outside Dublin he said:

"This statement doubtless refers to certain localities where for a long time there have been small centers of discontent, and in view of all these circumstances it is not the least surprising that it has been thought proper to place the whole country, nominally, for the time being under martial law.

"As to the apparent lack of repressive measures on the part of the government in the past concerning this Sinn Fein movement, it must be remembered that in Britain, as also in this country, the public mind is sensitive about anything that might seem to trench upon freedom of speech and of the press.
